

Priorities for Space Norms of Behavior Workshop

June 24, 2019

Carnegie Endowment for International Peace
Washington, DC 20036

Thanks to our workshop sponsor!

A half-day workshop that brings together international experts from commercial, civil, and national security space sectors to develop ideas for norms of behaviors in space that will improve space sustainability. Participants will discuss what norms are, what role they serve in moderating behavior and work in small groups to develop proposals for norms of behavior across the various space sectors that will have the most impact on space sustainability.

1100 Welcome and Introductions

Round-robin introductions of the workshop participants. Overview of the workshop agenda and link to the Summit on Space Sustainability.

1230 Working Lunch

1330 Breakout Group Discussion

Participants will break out into small groups to brainstorm ideas. The goal is to develop specific proposals for norms of behavior across commercial, civil, and/or national security space activities to address high-priority space sustainability challenges. Each group will be asked to develop 3-4 ideas, including key stakeholders and implementation steps.

1500 Proposals and Priorities for Developing Norms of Behavior in Space

Presentation of subgroup proposals and moderated group discussion of their respective pros and cons and which ones would have the most impact.

Moderator: Brian Weeden, SWF

1600 Conclusions
